MIDWAY EXCLUSIVELY REPRESENTS PINBALL 2000™

THE NEW IMAGE IN PINBALL

REVENGE FROM MARS

It's Revenge from Mars, the first game to ever combine the best of pinball's past with the technology of the future. By merging fast and furious playfield action with eye-popping computer graphics, Revenge from Mars is the next evolution of pinball.

What players have always loved about pinball is still the foundation for Pinball 2000: the physical sensation of launching that silver ball and controlling its flight through the use of flippers. But what distinguishes the game play of Revenge from Mars and future Pinball 2000 titles from games of old is monumental.

The game's story will actually unfold before the player's eyes as a reflected video image on the playfield. Rather than imagining a ramp shot represents the destruction of a Martian spaceship, players actually watch the ship explode in frightening detail. And, unlike old pinball games, almost any shot will elicit a virtual image reaction. The hands-on feel of traditional pinball coupled with the instant gratification and mind-blowing graphics of a video game results in the most engaging, interactive, and entertaining pinball game of all time.

The innovation of CPU controlled game play makes for a deeper, more realistic story line. In Revenge from Mars players must battle their way through more than twelve distinctive waves to stop the Martian invasion, including Paris in Peril, Mars Kneads Women, and Martian Happy Hour. Complete any three waves to start a bonus wave. Complete all bonus waves to reach the "Mothership Multiball" where you'll attack Mars in the ultimate battle to make the Milky Way safe for all mankind.

Forget everything you knew about pinball. This is something entirely different. Entirely better. It's Revenge from Mars, the first-ever game to utilize the technology of Pinball 2000.
